SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING

A special meeting of the city council was held in the usual place Saturday evening. His Worship Mayor Short and Councillors Heimbeck, Fraser, Cushing, Gieson and Gallagher were present.

Mr. Grant, of J. A. Stovel & Company's hardware establishment appeared to request the payment of $437.88 held back as security by the town on their sewer pipe contract. The engineer's report on the matter was submitted and as the greater bulk of the pipe was supplied in 1902 it was considered safe by the town to withhold only the percentage on the material supplied this year. This amounts to $72.48. The balance, $365.36, was ordered to be paid.

F. G. Fairbanks and others applied to the council for the drainage of the slough on Block 11, H. B. R. Engineer Armstrong informed the council that he had started the work over two weeks ago and that the water had already lowered several inches. The drainage will be completed in about ten days.

A complaint was made about two persons within the town limit who were being supported by the town, having broken quarantine, hired rigs, etc. The medical health officer was instructed to issue no further relief.

Donald Ross and others petitioned to have an area placed at the foot of the Ross grade a sidewalk and steps built down the hill on the water furnace. The expense to be borne equally by Strathcona and Edmonton. The request was referred to the engineer with power to act.

W. H. Hooper and others objected to having to guarantee a rate of profits on the installation of the waterworks and sewerage systems opposite their residences. They claimed that the town should pay half the rate on account of the market square bordering on the street. Water is being built down the hill with no surface drainage and the petitioners threatened legal proceedings if they are not given relief. They further requested that a water trough be put on the market square at the town's expense. This question aroused a long discussion on the necessity of feeding every portion for the drainage of water holes throughout the town. As soon as dry weather comes they will not be required. The petition was referred to the engineer for reply. The defeated by-law furnished matter for a lengthy discussion. There were differences of opinion in the council as to the best course to take notwithstanding the motion carried at the public meeting for re-submitting the by-law. Some thought that the $8,000 should be paid out of this year's taxes, which was ascertained to be entirely legal. Others wished to re-submit the by-law. One councillor offered to take the gravel property offered to take the gravel at the price they paid for it. The City engineer stated that he already had two offers for the property at the same figures. Nothing definite was done, further discussion being deferred until Wednesday night's meeting.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

J. B. Aslin, $6.
Paymaster for waterworks labor, $215.10.

Geo. Taylor, $50.
Edmonton Post, $17.80.
Edmonton Bulletin, $43.60.

MONDAY, AUGUST 3RD, 1903.

FROM OTTAWA

July 25th, 1903.
 (Bulletin Correspondence).
 The Grand Trunk Pacific announcement was partially promised for yesterday, but the day passed without any announcement being made. On Monday two weeks will have passed since the Hon. Mr. Blair resigned, and yet the bargain which then was understood to have been concluded, has not yet been presented to the House. This delay indicates clearly the importance of the action taken by the ex-minister. Whatever the ultimate result to himself or the government there can be very little doubt that such revision of terms as may be found to have taken place as a reason of his departure will be to the advantage of the country rather than to that of the railway company. The government no doubt feels compelled by his action to secure the most favorable terms possible before assuming responsibility for the bargain.

In the meantime business in parliament has been practically at a standstill. Some advance has been made, but very little in comparison to the length of time spent, when the late date of the session is considered. Yesterday the redistribution committee reported to the House and their report will be taken up for consideration as soon as printed. This bill was expected to be the most important of the session, but it is now overshadowed by the Grand Trunk Pacific. If the time, which in the first place was promised to the redistribution bill is given, and a proportionate amount to the Grand Trunk Pacific, instead of the session being near an end it is only at the beginning. There is every indication that the discussion on the redistribution bill will be long and possibly acrimonious. It will be confined chiefly to Ontario, but as it will involve digging up ancient history, it offers a boundless field for discussion.

Yesterday the government's resolutions to give a bounty to three-eighths of a cent a pound on Manila fibre imported for the manufacture of binder twine was discussed and carried. Although the discussion lasted from early afternoon until eleven o'clock at night there was no vote in opposition to the resolution. The opposition used the resolution as an opportunity for placing themselves on record on the general question of the tariff. While prepared to vote for the bounty, they objected to it more strongly, first because it was not a duty and second, because it was not high enough. Beyond that they declared themselves for a policy of high duties in favor of all manufactured articles. Tariff for tariff was their watchword, the United States tariff being the accepted standard. The ex-minister of Public Works was very conspicuous in his advocacy of high duties. The country was in imminent danger of ruin if the duties were not increased forthwith.

On two points the discussion made the position of the opposition clear. First, that they are distinctly in favor of higher duties on all manufactured duties, including, and indeed especially, all those used by the farmers, the present duties not being considered high enough. Second, that the increase in the cost of binder twine in recent years was definitely due to the increased price of Manila fibre, as evidenced by the Philippine war. This increase in the price of Manila has enabled the Canadian twine factories to declare a dividend of one hundred per cent for one year and forty per cent for another. They had since declared dividends of twenty per cent for two years, never going below a dividend of ten per cent. No evidence was brought forward that the Canadian twine factories could so continue to operate at a profit, even in competition with United States factories, but there was considerable evidence to indicate that they were not in actual competition, but rather were in combination with the United States factories in keeping up the price of twine.

The material used in the manufacture of binder twine comes from foreign countries, the Manila from the Philippines and the sisal from Mexico. Canada imported last year fifteen million pounds of manufactured twine, and the raw material from which was manufactured all the twine used in Canada. If the usual import duties were placed upon twine, and upon the material from which it is made, a burden of between a quarter and a half a million of dollars would be laid upon the farmers of Canada, which had been remitted by the Liberal government in their tariff of '97. The whole argument of the opposition was for a reimposition of the duty and for their increase to the same level as those of the United States, which on binder twine is 45 per cent.

New Territorial Legislation

Confirmation of Sales of Land For Taxes.

A subsection is added to section 2 providing that any person desirous of and entitled to redeem any land on account of its being unable to ascertain the proper amount due, may have the hearing adjourned and an account taken.

Notaries Public.

Important alterations are made in the ordinance respecting Notaries Public. Only British subjects may now be appointed notaries. Commissions issued after the passing of this ordinance to others than advocates, expire at the expiration of two years from the 31st December, 1905. Any notary whose commission expires as above mentioned, must write or stamp on every document officially attested by him, the date on which his commission expires. Failure to comply with these requirements makes the offender liable to a ten dollar fine.

Medical Profession.

Some alterations, of interest only to the medical profession, are made in the Medical Profession ordinance.

Companies Winding-up Ordinance.

Extensive provision is made for the winding up of joint stock companies. The ordinance repeals chap. 63 of the consolidated ordinances, intitled An Ordinance Respecting Foreign Companies and chap. 18 of 1890, amending the same.

Trust Companies.

The Trust Companies ordinance provides that a trust company, on the approval of the Lieutenant Governor in Council, may be appointed to execute the office of executor, administrator, trustee, assignee, guardian or conservator. A schedule is provided at the end of the ordinance, and a "trust company" is defined to mean one incorporated in the province of exercising any of the powers set forth in the schedule. This schedule defines the business which may be conferred on trust companies under the ordinance.

Fire Insurance Policies.

A schedule of statutory conditions, consisting of some twenty-three sections, is embodied in the ordinance, and a schedule is deemed to be part of every contract, whether sealed, oral or written, of fire insurance hereafter entered into or in force in the Territory, and is required to be printed on every policy of fire insurance. The ordinance does not come into force until the 1st January, 1904.

Agricultural Societies.

The Agricultural Societies ordinance provides complete machinery for the organization and conducting of agricultural societies. Societies in existence at the coming into force of the ordinance are brought under its operation and are continued as agricultural societies, their officers holding office until the next annual meeting of the society. Chap. 14 of 1899, an ordinance respecting agricultural societies, and chap. 21 of 1900, an amending ordinance, are repealed.

Villages.

To the list of properties exempt from taxation are added all buildings used for hospital purposes. No person occupying premises in any village shall, unless he has resided in the village for three months or is a tax payer, offer for sale any goods unless he has first paid to the village $25. Provision is made to cover the case of a village which has adopted the single tax system and desires to revert to the original system of assessment. To the list of permanent improvements which may be added the supplying of water to the village by irrigation canals or otherwise.

School Assessment.

A number of important amendments are made in the law governing the imposition and collection of school taxes.

Brands.

The Brand ordinance is amended to provide that every brand for cattle registered for the body shall consist of three characters.

Horse Breeders.

The Horse Breeders ordinance, chap. 20 of 1899, is repealed and a new ordinance with many new provisions is enacted. The ordinance comes into force on January 1st, 1904.

Noxious Weeds.

The former Noxious Weeds ordinance is repealed and one with more elaborate provisions substituted.

Prairie Fires.

A section is added to the Prairie Fire ordinance enacting that if a fire is caused by sparks from an engine, such fire shall be deemed to have been kindled by the person in charge of the engine.

Liquor License.

This ordinance is amended in a number of respects, some of the more important alterations being: No license shall be granted to any married woman who is not a licensee at the coming into force of this ordinance. After the 1st July 1903, no new license will be granted and after the 1st July, 1904, no renewal license will be entertained in respect of any hotel or wholesale premises not in a city, town or village, or not in a place having at least fifteen dwelling houses within an area of 1280 acres. A village may, on complying with certain provisions, impose a license fee of fifty dollars on hotels within the village. Bars may be kept open on a voting day when the vote is on a municipal by-law. At a bona fide banquet at a hotel liquor may be served to the guests at the banquet up to one o'clock, the permission to the license commissioner having first been obtained. The license fee for travellers for outside Territorial liquor houses is raised from $100 to $210.

Private Legislation.

In addition to the public legislation above referred to some seventeen private ordinances were put through. The ordinances of 1903 are now printed and ready for distribution. Copies may be obtained on application to the government printer, Regina. The price of the ordinances is fifty cents.

MILLET

Our school teacher, Miss Rife, of Millet, left on July 30th to visit friends in Edmonton. She is a teacher of good ability and our children have improved wonderfully since she started to teach. There was a tear shed when she left this village. We all hope that she will come back to teach our school.

Mr. Fred Blades, our general merchant, is going to build a large addition to his store, which will improve the town.

Mr. Jackson, of Millet, left yesterday to visit friends in South Dakota. He expects to come back in a few months.

Millet is not a very large town, but is a very lively little spot; it has three stores, two livery stables, one lumber yard, a land office, a hotel, a boarding house, a blacksmith shop, a tin shop, a butcher shop, a carpenter shop, a church and a number of dwelling houses. It is growing right along. If you want to start up in any kind of business, come to Millet.

Mrs. McPherson, proprietress of the Millet boarding house, is going to move out on her homestead twelve miles west of Millet. We wish her success.

The crops around Millet are looking well. The farmers are starting to make hay. They expect a large crop this year.

Rev. Mr. Kennedy found his horses that were lost about a month ago. They were found in the Indian reservation, south of Wetaskiwin.

Just to be tender, just to be true,
Just to be glad the whole day through,
Just to be merciful, just to be mild,
Just to be trustful as a child,
Just to be gentle and kind and sweet,
Just to be helpful, with willing feet,
Just to be cheerful when things go wrong,
Just to drive sadness away with a song.

Whether the hour is dark or bright,
Just to be loyal to God and right,
Just to believe that God knows best,
Just in his promise ever to rest,
Just to let love be our daily key,
This is God's will to you and me,
— Jack Morley.
